Begin Flooding Skating Field at High School

Other Winter Sports Activities Start in Lakes Region

Work was begun this week by the Antioch Lions club on the task of flooding the athletic field at Antioch Township High school skating rink.

The field has already been given two "soakings," and as soon as the snow can be scraped off, it will again be flooded to build up thicker ice and provide a smooth surface.

Lions club members who have been working on the project include Dr. G. W. Jensen, Jim McMillen, Roman Vos, Robert Webb and Arthur Trieger. Plans were being made to have a pipe line laid from an outdoor hydrant at the school to the field, so as to shorten the distance that has to be covered with hose lines.

Evening skating at the field will be made possible by the floodlights recently installed there under the auspices of the Lions club, with the cooperation of other local organizations, the school board and the community in general.

Tobogganing to Start
With the heavy fall of snow continuing, the winter sports program of tobogganing and skiing is getting underway in this region earlier than usual.

Steitz' resort on Bluff lake is planning to have its toboggan slide built up by this weekend, if the weather moderates sufficiently to permit outdoor work, John Steitz said Wednesday. Tobogganing has also been popular at Lake Antioch in past years.

In addition to the famous ski slides at Wilmot Hills, there has also been some tobogganing there.

Sleigh-ride parties are also expected to gain in favor during the holiday season, with the early onset of real winter weather this year.

The Greatest Gift

Christmas means more than mailing presents and opening packages. Today, as never before in history, it means giving something of ourselves to others.

For that is the spirit of the Prince of Peace, whose birth we celebrate.

This year more families in this community have given the supreme gift—the offering of sons for their country. Stars on some service flags have turned to gold. Each week this newspaper has proudly recorded the deeds of those who serve, fight and die, if need be, that we may be free.

The families of these heroes know the true meaning of Christmas. For they, also, have given a Son.

Many of us cannot match such records of high sacrifice. But we can give and we can serve in other ways. We can make good will and kindness, charity and understanding not empty words but heart-warming realities in our dealings with others.

We can help the boys returning to this community from the war build a brave new future. We can cheer the lonely homes of servicemen still far away. We can speed the day of peace on earth, justice and brotherhood.

In thus giving of ourselves we will all be far richer. And we will add inner meaning and strength to the age-old but ever-new greeting which this newspaper extends to you and yours—

A Merry Christmas

Seventh Grader Is "Star Salesman" in Bond Drive

Township Already $14,577 Over Victory Campaign Quota

Paul R. Wanthal, 11, a seventh grade student at the Lotus school, has been a "star salesman" in helping to put Antioch's Victory Loan "over the top" with a total of $94,577.50 worth of bonds sold to date. Antioch township's quota was $80,000.

The pledges secured by the youthful volunteer canvasser total in the neighborhood of $5,000.00, Township Chairman Otto S. Klass estimates.

Paul's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Wanthal, have served on the township committee in Precinct 3 during all eight of the bond drives.

Report Not Complete
The present total of bond sales does not include pay roll deductions which will probably amount to about $7,000, Klass says.

The sales of bonds in the E, F and G series is being continued from Dec. 8 through Dec. 31, it is announced by the township chairman.

Service officers located conveniently in each county provide speedy one-stop service and make it unnecessary for a veteran to go beyond his county line for aid.

Reutlinger is a veteran of World War I and is a member of the American Legion and the Moose lodge at Waukegan. He has been employed as a mechanic for the past nine years and a resident of Lake county for 34 years.

JOHN W. HORAN IS MADE SERGEANT

Mrs. Lux, Sr., 91, Ill only Two Days, Dies

Funeral services were held in the residence Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with the Rev. Warren C. Henslee, pastor of the Antioch Methodist church, officiating. She was buried in Hillside cemetery.

Christmas—It Is, Withal, a Very Merry One This Year!

This is a funny sort of a Christmas season for lots of folks.

It's all mixed up with rejoicing such as hasn't been experienced in the years since 1940, with incredible relief, with happy reunions, with heartaches over the past and misgivings over the future—with direful prophecies over the atomic bomb, and with glowing prophecies for a brighter and braver future than the world has ever known.

Sometimes the present state of affairs reminds us of Owen Wister's much-quoted "Virginian," when that slightly sardonic cowpuncher stopped his runaway team of bronchos at the edge of a yawning gulch and, turning to his "tenderfoot" passenger from the east observed, "I reckon you're about halfway between Oh, Lord!" and "Thank God!"

But in spite of the privations, weariness, bitterness and uncertainties that war has left in its wake, it seems to us that folks this Christmas are getting much closer to the "Thank God!" spirit that they have been for some time.

At this time we can truly join in saying "Thank God" for the heroism, sacrifices, day-to-day drudgery, leadership and co-operation that helped to bring us victory.

And if the stores are not filled with the fabulous arrays of Christmas gifts that were to be seen in the pre-war era, we still cannot complain too much when we have that greatest of all Christmas gifts—Peace.

Demobilization or Disintegration?

There has been much criticism of the demobilization program. Part of the criticism springs from revulsion of free-born American citizens to militarism. Part derives from those who want to get members of their families home, and view any obstruction, no matter how unavoidable, with belligerence. Part comes from the fact that some phases of demobilization actually have been tripped up by confusion.

In justice to the military forces who served the nation so faithfully and efficiently through the worst crisis in the history of this country, their side of the story should be included in the record.

Though it may surprise some, the Army is discharging more than 40,000 men a day. Both the Army and Navy are ahead of schedule in demobilizing. The Army plans to release 54 percent more men by Christmas than was thought possible a few weeks ago. In reality, demobilization is proceeding at a dangerously rapid pace. General Marshall, who believes in releasing men at the fastest possible rate, warns that: "For the moment, in a widespread emotional crisis of the American people, demobilization has become, in effect, disintegration, not only of the armed forces but apparently of all conception of world responsibility and what it demands of us." Admiral King has vehemently expressed a similar opinion. This is something to ponder.

Moreover, in spite of the tumult of criticism, it should not be forgotten that military leadership, American style, red tape and all, can on occasion be very human. There was the incident in San Francisco a short time ago when Rear Admiral Wright, commandant of that district, acting on his own initiative, removed more than a hundred men eligible for discharge, from a Japan-bound transport minutes before sailing time.

Yes, there are two sides to every story, even in the case of demobilization. Have the American people forgotten Pearl Harbor; the long uphill pull from there to Midway, to Okinawa, to Japan? Have they forgotten the Normandy invasion, the miseries of the whole long European campaign? Have they forgotten the miracles of military skill that lifted them out of the depths of despair to victory? Have they forgotten that this victory came just a few short months ago, and that the Generals and Admirals have had to switch from invasion and attack to demobilization, in an incredibly short time?

An injection of old-fashioned patriotism would be a good thing for all of us.

Salvage of Waste Fat

Will Relieve Soap Shortage

Continuing importance of used household Fat Salvage for peacetime production is stressed by Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson in a telegram sent to Donald M. Pfeiffer, President of the National Renderers Association.

Secretary Anderson's message read: "We urge that you ask all your members to continue their splendid work on the salvage of used fats. Renderers and independent collectors have a key role in the Fat Salvage Program. It is essential that they continue to complete the collection system. The end of consumer rationing of food fats and oils has in no way lessened the need for salvage fats for industrial use. Your continued cooperation is needed and will be appreciated."

Reports received by the American Fat Salvage committee indicate that there has been only a slight decline in used kitchen fats turned in to meat dealers since the cessation of meat rationing. Shortages of soap and other essential household articles which depend upon industrial fats and oils seem to have convinced housewives that fat salvage is still a number one duty.

Efficient collection of used fats by meat dealers and pickup service by Renderers and Railway Express Agency are vital to the continuing success of the program. Fat Salvage committee officials agree. Meat dealers are most active and cooperative and will continue to pay four cents a pound for salvaged household fats as long as the present industrial fats and oils shortages continue, the committee states.

Moncke Business

A "monkey wrench" is not so named because it is a handy thing to monkey with. The tool was invented by a London blacksmith, Charles Moncke, and named after him. The origin of the word was later obscured and corrupted into "monkey."

The law* now says—YOU CAN'T DRIVE
YOUR CAR

IF you should have an accident and lack the money or insurance to cover possible claims that may follow. Here's how this new law works:

If you have an automobile accident which kills or injures any other person or causes over $50 property damage, you must—within 60 days—do one of these things:

1. Show you have Automobile Insurance that covers the accident, or

2. Prove that you have arranged to pay any resulting claims against you, or have been cleared of liability for such claims, or

3. Put up cash or other securities, as required by state authorities, sufficient to cover possible claims, up to as much as $10,000 for death or injury cases, and $1,000 for property damage.

Unless these requirements are met promptly, your license will be suspended and you will be forbidden to use any car in this state.

Your best bet is Hartford Insurance

Hartford's Automobile Liability and Property Damage insurance is tailor-made to fit this new law.

In case of accident, a Hartford policy will give you double protection. It helps you to retain your right to drive. And it will pay—up to its limits—any claims or judgments awarded against you.

If you lose the right to drive your car, it may be a serious inconvenience. If a court judgment strips you of your home and security, it's a catastrophe.

For your own protection, the security of your family, and to safeguard your driving rights, act now to get Hartford Automobile Liability and Property Damage insurance. The value is great—the cost reasonable. Here are the rates:

Wakefield said, "The job of bringing home our troops along with keeping the occupation forces well supplied continues to be one of great importance and it's the task of the merchant marine."

"Right now, we'll sign on any men who hold seamen's certificates as licensed officers, able-bodied seamen, firemen, oilers, water-tenders, cook or bakers, and fully qualified applicants will be furnished first class transportation to the seaboard," Wakefield stated.

Information may be obtained at a U. S. Employment Service bureau or at the War Shipping Administration's mid-western office, 844 Rush street, Chicago.

From Pearl Harbor, T. H., comes the Pacific fleet news release that—"Robert E. Story, husband of Marcella M. Story of Antioch, Ill., is now on his way home."

"Story is one of 1,107 high-point Navy veterans whom the 'Magic Carpet' is bringing back to the States aboard the U. S. S. Belleau Woods. "The Belleau Woods—one of more than 250 carriers, battleships, cruisers and attack transports in the Navy's famed 'Magic Carpet' fleet—left Guam Nov. 26 and is scheduled to arrive in San Francisco about Dec. 9.

"Passengers will go direct to the Separation centers nearest their homes to complete the formalities of obtaining their discharges before returning to civilian life."

"I have benefitted from your news of the Antioch area for over three years. Now my status is to be changed to that of a civilian."

"When I return home next week I will try to make further use of your extended circulation through ads and its other features."

"I most want to thank you for the news which cheered me often and helped me find several old friends. Will see Antioch very soon and recall several adventures before I return to college next semester."

"Thanks again, and when the reunion comes of the Antioch service men, I hope I have the opportunity to be there!"

Thanks for that look in your eyes
 when I walked in the front door.

Thanks for those letters that tried to sound gay — with the smudged ink where it said "I miss you."
 Thanks for trying to make Saturday night alone at the movies sound like dinner at the Pitz.

Thanks for wanting a Victory Bond for Christmas and telling me so... instead of letting me buy something that wouldn't make either one of us very proud.

Thanks for realizing what the success of this Victory Loan means to friends of mine who'll never see or walk or think straight again.

Thanks for realizing that the money for medical care and death benefits and Bill of Rights loans and education doesn't grow on trees.

Thanks for understanding that no other gift I could give you could carry as much sentiment this Christmas as this symbol of the kind of wife you are —
 The kind of wife for whom I'd do it all over again tomorrow.

★ Stealing over the countryside is the blessed peacefulness of Christmastime. The very air seems charged with it. Even the birds—what few remain—appear to share in the general rejoicing that has come over the world.

We earnestly hope that this Christmas season of 1945 will bestow unusual blessings upon you and yours . . . that it will bring to your home the soft glow that even Christmas tree lights cannot bequeath—the full joy of Christmas seasons long past but forever remembered. May such a Christmas be yours!

AS the light of Christmas again brightens our faces and lightens our hearts, we turn our thoughts from ourselves to help others. For this is the spirit that first saw the light of day in a stable at Bethlehem, two thousand years ago, and which has endured ever since.
